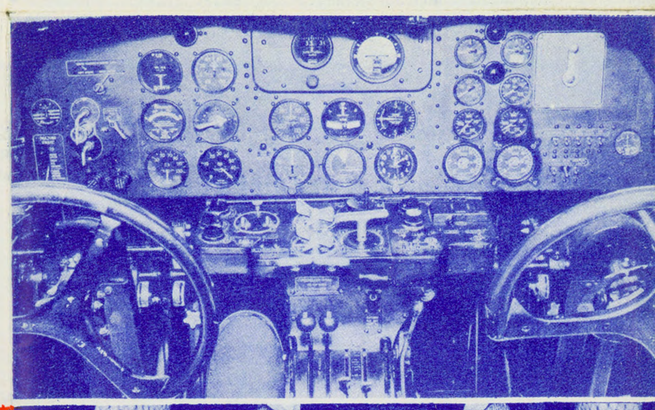
CENTRAL MICHIGAN – MILWAUKEE



Steady Progress

• Once again Pennsylvania Airlines marks a milestone in its record of over 9 years constructive development with the announcement of the extension of service with 3-mile-a-minute Boeings to Central Michigan and Milwaukee, thus completing Boeing service over the entire Washington - Detroit - Milwaukee route.

New Comfort

• Now those who travel to and from Central Michigan and Milwaukee may enjoy swift miles of armchair comfort in Boeing transports all the way. Spacious, quieter cabins permit conversation in ordinary tones. Deeply upholstered chairs may be adjusted to reclining positions. A pillow and robe are provided if the passenger wishes a nap during flight. Individual ventilator, reading light and current magazines contribute to complete enjoyment.

Faster Schedules

• Cities on the Detroit-Milwaukee route are now closer together in point of travel time than ever before. Detroit is now but two and one-half hours from Milwaukee; only 75 minutes from Grand Rapids; 45 minutes from Lansing. New York and Washington are only six hours distant from Milwaukee, five hours from Central Michigan.

5,000,000 Miles

• With present schedules aggregating almost 5,000 miles daily, Pennsylvania Airlines has completed more than 5,000,000 miles of flying with an unexcelled safety record.

• This record, combined with more than 9 years of successful operation insures dependability. Pennsylvania Airlines pilots have thousands of hours of flying experience, and many are pioneers, just as Pennsylvania Airlines is a pioneer air mail operator. Fly Pennsylvania . . the oldest passenger airline east of the Mississippi . . and you "Fly with Experience".

Through Service

• Daily schedules in each direction now offer, for the first time, modern, high speed, through service between Washington, Pittsburgh, Akron, Cleveland, Detroit, Central Michigan and Milwaukee.

Connecting schedules of other airlines provide faster service to New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Albany and Boston.

100,000 Passengers

• Pennsylvania Airlines marked its ninth anniversary in April by reaching a passenger total of more than 100,000. Compared to the 191 passengers carried during the entire year of 1930, the record of almost 45,000 in 1935 is a fitting tribute to the popularity of the 3-mile-a-minute Boeing.

Flotation Gear

• All planes flying over Lake Michigan are equipped with a scientifically designed flotation gear, approved by the U. S. Navy and the Bureau of Air Commerce.

NEW REDUCED RATES

Lowest Fares in the History of Air Travel

• Now Pennsylvania Airlines offers, in addition to new, improved service, substantial rate reductions.

Lower fares than ever before are now in effect between Milwaukee-Detroit and intermediate points.

Also through fares from Milwaukee and Central Michigan to major Eastern cities have been materially reduced.

Low fares, established some months ago, between Detroit-Washington and intermediate points are still in effect.
