On Board

Information

Flight crew keeps you informed

We're happy to provide you with information from the front of the aircraft. So you can expect to be greeted by your captain either before or shortly after take-off. And from time to time during the flight your captain will take the microphone and give you the latest news about the route and weather conditions at your destination. The maître de cabine is, of course, your primary source of information en route. If you have a question about meal services, inflight entertainment, onboard sales, connections and transfers, Swissotel accommodation, Immigration and Customs, or any other aspect of your flight, don't hesitate to contact your maître de cabine.

Airshow

The inflight screens on our aircraft keep you up to date with the progress of your flight. The information displayed includes current position, ground speed, altitude, outside temperature, distance from point of origin and distance, and time remaining in your journey.

Reading material
We provide you with daily newspapers and weekly newsmagazines, along with a variety of other publications, including our own inflight magazine.

Telephone
The entire Swissair long-haul fleet is equipped with satellite telephones. Each seat in First Class and Business Class on long-haul aircraft has a phone of its own. Short-haul aircraft feature wall-mounted telephones.

Laptop power
If you're travelling in First Class or Business Class on a Swissair long-haul flight, you can plug your laptop computer into an in-seat power supply socket. You can use your own adapter cable for a 15V power system or purchase a Targus PA350E Universal Cable on board. Please note that only a few are available per flight, however.

Entertainment
Swissair's inflight entertainment program varies according to aircraft type and destination.

MD-11: You can choose between the film on the main screen or a wide selection of music on our audio channels. If you're flying First Class or Business Class, your personal DVD player provides superb video and audio entertainment.

Airbus A330: A wide variety of films, music styles, and interactive electronic games are at your fingertips on your personal screen. You can also shop or send a short text message to any mobile telephone, fax number, or e-mail address worldwide (maximum length 125 characters, USD 1.95 per message).

Air Concierge
The maître de cabine also acts as an air concierge for Swissair First Class passengers. He or she can provide a number of special services during the flight. Such as:

- book, re-book or cancel a flight
- reserve a particular seat
- check fares
- order a special meal for your next flight
- book a Swissôtel room
- arrange for a limousine to transport you to a Swissôtel
- reserve a Smart rental car or mobile telephone*
- send a message to someone waiting to meet you or to your car rental company or hotel
- obtain results of sporting events

* for your arrival in Zurich or Geneva

No smoking, please
Please remember that smoking is not permitted on our flights. This applies to the lavatories, too. If you feel a craving for a cigarette while en route on a long-haul flight, feel free to ask one of our flight attendants to provide you with a piece of nicotine chewing gum.

Switch off mobile telephones, laptops, CD players
Electronic devices can interfere with aircraft electronic systems:

- mobile telephones should be switched off throughout your flight;
- laptop computers and CD players should be switched off during the take-off and landing phase of your flight or at any other time if requested by a member of the crew.

Upon arrival

Special arrival lounge Zurich
If you'd like to freshen up after a long flight, as a Swissair or Crossair passenger you're welcome to use the facilities of the Allegra Arrival Lounge, which is located in Terminal A. The lounge is equipped with showers, toilets, newspapers, drinks, fruit, and snacks. Travelclub members and First Class or Business Class passengers may use the lounge free of charge. Economy Class passengers pay CHF 30 or USD 20.

Lost and Found
If your baggage has unfortunately failed to arrive as expected, please contact Swissair or Crossair, who will help you cope with this rather stressful inconvenience. Be sure to present your ticket and baggage receipts.

Reconfirmation
Reconfirmation is required only for flights to or from Africa: 72 hours prior to departure

Unforeseen events
Please be sure to supply us with an address or telephone number where you can be reached during your travels in case we have to inform you of a postponement or cancellation of one of your flights.

If you change your travel plans
In the event your travel plans change after you have begun your journey, please inform Swissair or Crossair immediately. If you have booked a flight with Swissair or Crossair but fail to appear at the gate, you risk having all further flights with Swissair or Crossair cancelled.
