WINTER DEPENDABILITY

Such progress has been made to-day in the development of navigational methods and systems to guide airliners safely through the worst weather that what may appear astonishing to the passenger is to the pilots of British Airways merely a daily routine. The adoption by British Airways of Lorenz blind-approach receivers and complete de-icing equipment on all Lockheed Electra airliners contributes to the dependable operation of their continental services throughout the winter.

BRITISH AIRWAYS ARE CARRIERS OF THE ROYAL MAIL BY DAY AND BY NIGHT

THE 24-HOUR CLOCK SYSTEM IS USED THROUGHOUT THIS TIMETABLE

REGULATIONS AND GENERAL INFORMATION FOR PASSENGERS

AIRCRAFT. All services of the company are operated by fast multi-engined aircraft. Large and well-appointed saloon cabins, with lounge chairs for each passenger, ensure restful flying comfort. Ventilation can be controlled to suit individual taste, while warm-air radiators maintain a comfortable indoor temperature. Double sound-insulated walls reduce vibration and noise to a minimum and allow effortless conversation between passengers. Aircraft in flight are in constant touch by radio with ground stations along the route. By this means the pilot receives advance weather reports and is kept advised of his position and course under all conditions of visibility. Every aircraft used by the company is inspected and certified airworthy for service at the beginning of each day by Air Ministry licensed engineers, who also check the engines, controls, and all flying equipment before each flight.

BAGGAGE. Each adult passenger is allowed 15 kgs. (33 lbs.) of baggage free of charge. Excess baggage over this weight may be carried subject to accommodation being available, and is charged for at the advertised rates. Passengers travelling on express services operated by Lockheed Electra airliners are advised to confine their baggage to suitcases as trunks cannot be accepted. Facilities are available, however, for forwarding heavy baggage in advance, and full particulars may be obtained on request. Baggage must contain personal effects only, and must be delivered to the company at the place of departure for registration. By Customs' regulations all merchandise must be declared separately as freight.

BREAK OF JOURNEY. A journey may usually be broken at any stage, provided the passenger expresses his wish to do so when reserving accommodation, and provided the length of stay does not exceed seven days. The passenger must himself reserve accommodation for the remaining stage or stages.

CAMERAS. As the carriage and use of cameras in certain countries is governed by restrictions, passengers must declare cameras to an official of the company on arriving for embarkation. In the event of a breach of the regulations in any country the passenger will be held personally responsible to the authorities of the country concerned.

CANCELLATION. In the event of a passenger wishing to cancel or transfer his reservation, the full fare will be refunded less a cancellation fee of 10 per cent. and less the cost of any telephone calls and/or telegrams incurred by the cancellation, provided notice of cancellation is received, and the tickets returned, at least 24 hours before the advertised time of departure. Should a cancellation be made after the time specified above, refund of the fare, less the 10 per cent. cancellation fee, will only be made, at the company's discretion, provided the seat has been disposed of at the full fare.

CHILDREN. Children under three years of age, accompanied by an adult and not occupying a separate seat, are charged 10 per cent. of the published fare. Children between the ages of three and seven are charged at half the published fare. The free baggage allowance for children between the ages of three and seven is 15 kgs. (33 lbs.). No baggage allowance is made for children under three years of age.

CIRCULAR JOURNEYS. A 10 per cent. reduction on the sum of the stage fares is accorded on tickets issued in connection with circular journeys which commence and terminate at the same point and which are completed within 60 days inclusive of the date of commencement.

CONDITIONS OF CARRIAGE. An extract from the conditions under which passengers are carried by British Airways, Limited, will be found inside the cover of every ticket. A copy of the General Conditions of Carriage of Passengers and Baggage may be inspected at any of the company's offices.

DEPARTURES. Passengers making use of the company's ground transport services between the city terminus and the airport, or those making their own way to the airport, must arrive sufficiently in advance of the advertised time of departure to enable the necessary baggage and ticket formalities to be completed in time to ensure the punctual departure of the air service. Normally the passenger lists are closed five minutes before the advertised time of departure, and no guarantee can be given that any passenger arriving within that time can be carried on the service, as no service can be delayed for passengers arriving late.

FARES. All fares are subject to alteration without notice. The fare applicable to any journey is shown in the currency of the country in which the journey is commenced, but may be paid for in the currency of the country in which the ticket is purchased, conversion being made at the prevailing rate of exchange. All passengers, other than those of German nationality, purchasing their tickets in Germany to travel by the company's services from Hamburg, must pay for their tickets in a currency other than Reich Marks, converted at the prevailing rate of exchange.

FREIGHT. Freight is accepted for carriage on all the company's services for destinations served directly by the company or by connecting air services operated by companies members of the International Air Traffic Association. Regulations for the carriage of freight are published separately in the company's freight tariff, a copy of which may be obtained on request.

INSURANCE. Most life policies cover travel by air without extra premium, but additional insurance, covering travel by the services of the company, can be effected at any of the company's offices on request.

LIVESTOCK. Livestock crated to the satisfaction of the company may be accepted for carriage by arrangement made in advance, at a charge equal to the general merchandise rate plus 50 per cent. Dogs, cats and other animals, however, are not carried on passenger services.

MEALS. On long-distance services time is generally allowed for light meals at the airports en route, but luncheon baskets may be obtained at all airports, provided they are ordered, at the time of booking.

PASSPORTS. Passengers are reminded that passports must be carried on the person, except when travelling with day-return or week-end "No Passport" tickets.

PUNCTUALITY. Although every effort is made to ensure the punctuality of all services, the company cannot accept responsibility for any delay to or suspension of its services.

REFUNDS. If a passenger is unable to use the return half of a ticket, and provided no accommodation has been reserved, the difference between the single and return fares will be refunded. In the event of the cancellation of a service, or if the aircraft returns to the airport of departure, the value of the ticket, together with the amount paid for excess baggage, if any, will be refunded. In the event of an interrupted journey a refund will be made corresponding to the uncompleted mileage, unless the company provides other suitable means of transport. No refund of the fare paid can be made if an intending passenger does not arrive or arrives too late for a service for which reservation has been made, and no claim will be considered unless received within three weeks from the date of expiry of the validity of the ticket.

RESERVATIONS. As accommodation on all services is limited, seats should be booked in advance. Reservations may be made and tickets obtained through any office of British Airways or their agents. The cost of any necessary trunk telephone calls or telegrams will be charged to the passenger. Reservations by telephone or telegram will only be accepted on receipt of a telegraphic remittance, or a remittance by subsequent post. In no instance can accommodation be held following the receipt of a telephone message or telegram to the exclusion of other passengers who are prepared to take up their tickets, unless accompanied by such remittance. Tickets are valid only for the date and service specified thereon and for which reservation has been made. Reservations for the return journey must be made in the same way as for single journeys. Passengers do not apply for return accommodation at the time of booking the outward journey, and/or give less than 48 hours' notice of the return date and service before commencing the outward journey, must either apply at the station from which the return journey is to be commenced or reimburse the company with the cost of an application by telegram or telephone. Where a reply is not received before departure the passenger must himself ascertain on arrival at destination that return reservation has been made and must hand in his ticket for endorsement of the date and service.

RETURN TICKETS. Return tickets are available for use on the return journey on any day within the period of their validity. Any passenger who does not pay the return fare at the time of buying the ticket for the outward journey cannot afterwards be placed on the same footing as a holder of a return ticket.

SEASON TICKETS. Season Travel Voucher Books (Carnet de Billets), entitling the holder and, if required, his wife, and children under 21 years of age, to a reduction of 15 per cent. on the official published fares, are available for use on any European service operated by air transport companies members of the International Air Traffic Association. Business houses can obtain a similar concession by purchasing Bulk Travel Voucher Books for the use of bona-fide members of their staff travelling on the firm's business. These Voucher Books may be obtained from any office of the company or its agents.

SMOKING. Passengers are asked to note that smoking is not permitted in the passenger cabins when a notice to that effect is displayed.

THROUGH BOOKINGS. British Airways act as agents for all European air transport companies members of the International Air Traffic Association and in this capacity can effect reservations and issue tickets to all destinations served by these companies.

TIMETABLES. This timetable cancels all previous issues and is subject to alteration without notice. Although every care has been taken in preparation, the company cannot accept responsibility for printing errors or any consequences arising therefrom.
