ENJOY A REAL BED

WHEN FLYING OVERNIGHT COAST-TO-COAST

Doctors, beauty specialists, your own common sense—all tell you: Nothing takes the place of sleep.

One may nap twisting around all night in a chair . . . but the only way to sleep is to undress and go to bed.

If you defy nature and break this habit, your mind and body cannot be at their best next day.

This young lady, flying overnight coast-to-coast, has wisely chosen the service which provides a full night's sleep in a bed: the "American Mercury" or the "Southerner" . . . Here she enjoys deep, refreshing slumber between crisp, cool sheets, high above the dust and noise of ground transportation. The air she breathes is mountain-fresh. In apparel nets, on hangers in the berth, her clothes remain clean and neat.

She will arrive at her destination in the morning refreshed and fit, ready for a new day. This is the way to travel!

Remember: Only "American" provides America with Sleeper Plane luxury.

Now... HIGH-SPEED DOUGLAS AIRLINER SERVICE BETWEEN CHICAGO AND TEXAS

On September 24th, American Airlines extended high-speed, 14-passenger Douglas Airliner Services to include the Chicago-Texas schedules.

With this equipment change, American added Stewardesses to this important service, and inaugurated convenient evening, as well as morning, schedules from both terminals.

On the preceding page, we set forth the importance of this improved service for passengers who wish to travel to and from California and the Middle West . . . overnight with few stops, and a night's sleep in a bed. But quite as important is the excellent service now possible between the Middle West and Texas, Arizona, Mexico, Central and South America.

For further interesting information, consult the schedules on page 6, table 2 and page 7, table 5, or call your local American Airlines office.
