For Your Security

THOSE of us who are associated in the operation of Chicago and Southern Air Lines are governed by one controlling thought—your safety. You have heard much in recent years about relative percentages of safety in transport. You have read that flying is statistically twice as safe as driving your car, or not as safe as travelling by train. And yet no form of travel is either dangerous or safe in itself. In the last analysis your security rests upon the experience and judgment of the personnel directing your transportation.

For this reason Chicago and Southern has chosen for its pilots and dispatchers, its maintenance crews and flight superintendents, men whose dominant trait is caution. At times your flight may be cancelled, interrupted or delayed when the chances are greatly in favor of its scheduled completion. And the reason will be that these men will not tolerate even one chance of a possible risk. Cautious by temperament, they have grown more cautious by training. Speed and dependability are their stock in trade—caution is a part of their character.

Carlton Putnam

Chicago & Southern Air Lines, Inc.

TOP . . . All metal twin-engined Lockheed Electra—cruising speed over 3 miles per minute — used on all schedules.

CENTER . . . Instrument Panel — dual controls for first and second pilot — two way radiotelephone — complete complement of flying and engine instruments.
