"I Save So Much Time at So Little Cost When I Travel CHICAGO and SOUTHERN"
Here's the Proof!

You Do Not Need a Priority to Fly C. & S.

Defense travel is not interfering to any large extent with travel by the general public. Our present schedules are more frequent and total seats available greater than ever. The government through priorities on parts and replacements, and through deferment of key airline personnel, has made our present operation and maintenance the most efficient in airline history. Tell your friends that now more than ever, it pays to fly.
