TRI-WEEKLY SERVICE FROM NEW ORLEANS
 TO MERIDA, Mexico
GAUTEMALA CITY
BALBOA, Canal Zone

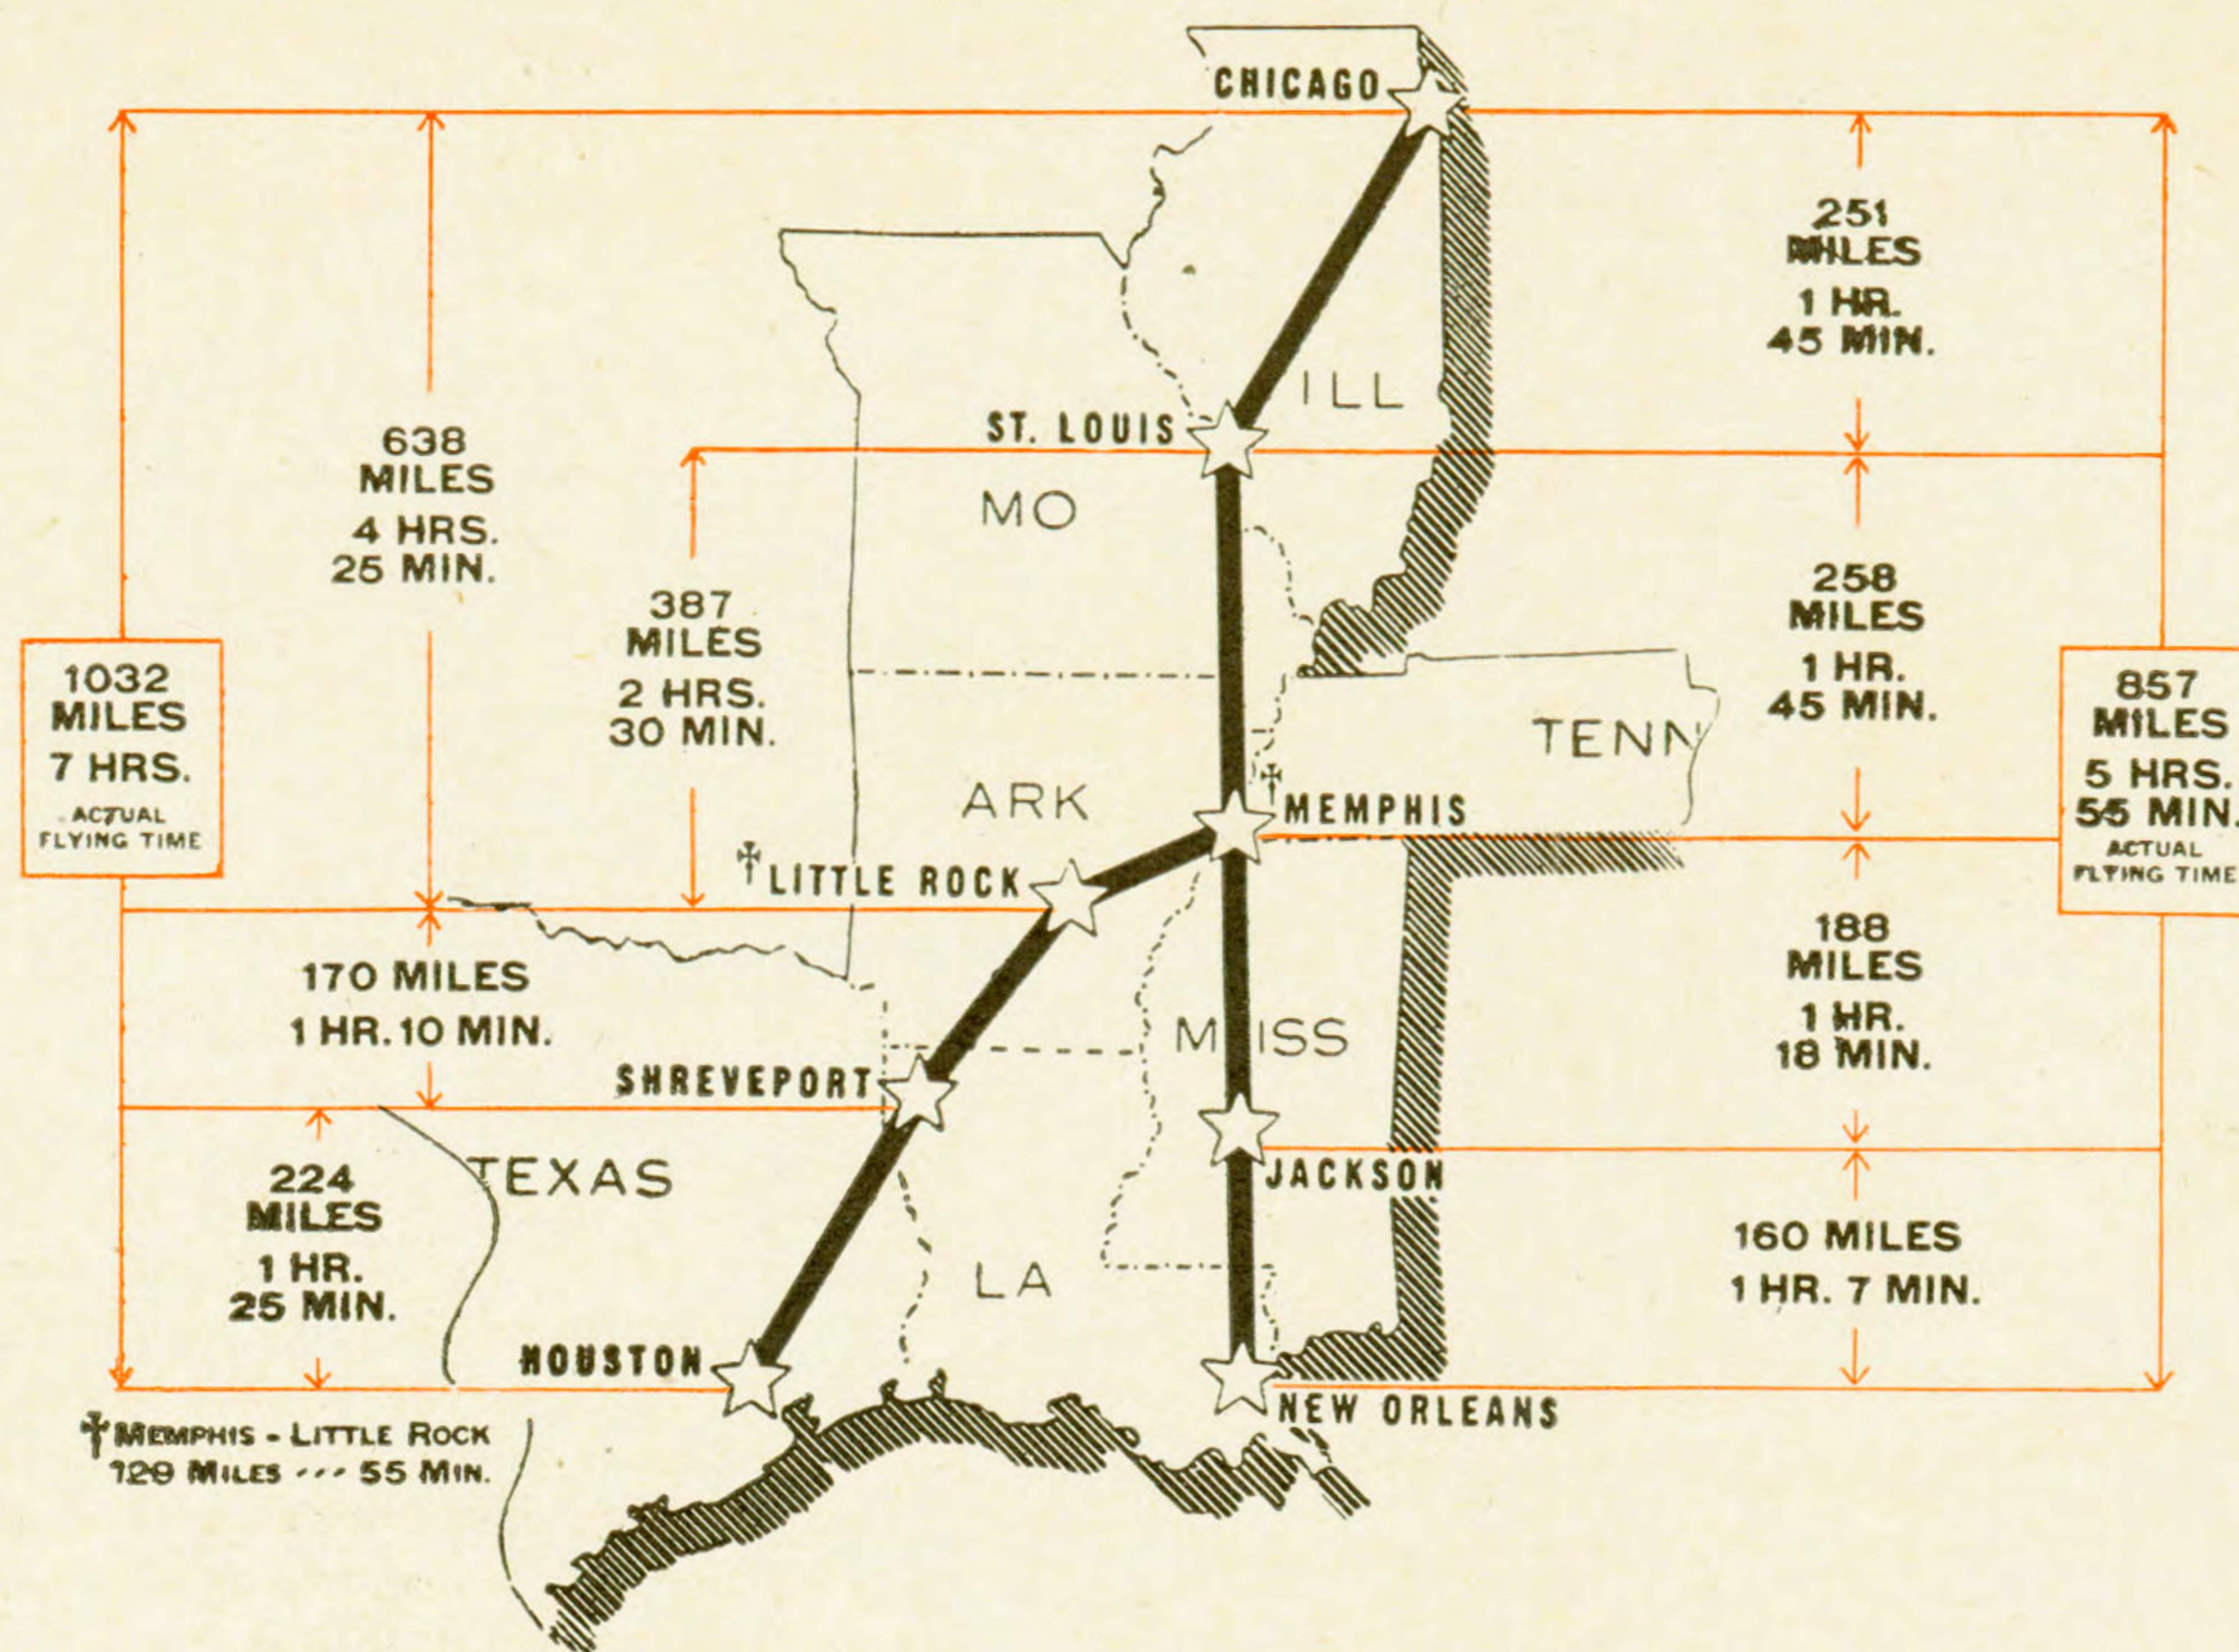

New Orleans, the great national seaport for the Mississippi Valley—has become the great aerial gateway for all Latin America. This new service leaves New Orleans three times a week and connects with Chicago and Southern's Dixieliners. Now Mid-western and Southern manufacturers can figure Latin American Air Express and shipping time in hours instead of days to help speed up Victory.

 Wisely*

As a means of saving time for increased war effort, air transportation is a facility which must be used wisely for the greatest national good. Air travelers can help increase the value of available air transport service by doing several things.

Whenever possible, travel during the early part of the week . . . Make reservations as far ahead as possible . . . Notify airlines regarding cancellations as soon as possible . . . Don't be a "No-Show" . . . Map itineraries to include stops on the going as well as the returning portion . . . You may save yourself an extra trip and make a seat available to another traveler whose work is important to the war program.
