NOW-YOU CAN FLY VIA CONTINENTAL to MONTERREY and MEXICO CITY

South of the Border During Wartime

NOW you can fly to Monterrey and Mexico City via three Continental gateways—El Paso—Wichita—Tulsa. At El Paso a connection with American Airlines provides a daily schedule; at Wichita, using Braniff Airways, daily schedules are available with American Airlines at Dallas and Fort Worth, and at Brownsville with Pan American Airways. At Tulsa, direct connection is made with American Airlines also via Dallas and Fort Worth for Mexico City.

These new daily services help speed war production . . . bring closer our fighting ally and Good Neighbor south of the border. For example, Mexico City now is only about eleven hours flying time from Denver via the El Paso gateway. Round-trip reductions are available south of the border and diverse routings are available returning at a slight difference in cost.

Air travelers to the romantic land of Mexico must necessarily conform to certain wartime regulations. To save you inconvenience, and to help you cooperate with the customs and immigration authorities ask your Continental office for booklet giving complete details.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Air Express—All flights carry air express. Special door-to-door pickup and delivery is provided by the Air Express Division of Railway Express Agency, Inc., at no extra charge.
