NEW LOWER FARES
IMPROVED SCHEDULES TO MIDLAND/ODESSA AND TULSA

September 15, 1982

Dear Muse Air Passenger,

The publication of this schedule marks a significant milestone in Muse Air's short one-year history. On October 1, 1982 we will commence three daily round trip, nonstop flights between Houston's close-in downtown Hobby Airport and Los Angeles International Airport. Our new service will not only provide the discriminating traveler the lowest nonstop unrestricted fare ($130 one way) in the Los Angeles-Houston market, but will also, for the first time, extend our unique style of service to a high density, long-haul market.

We have built our reputation in Texas over the last year by providing the traveling public the highest quality, most beautiful service available at any price in our new McDonnell Douglas Super 80 aircraft. We now serve more than 100,000 passengers each month because our passengers have noticed the difference that all of our employees make in genuinely caring for you.

We welcome our new California passengers to the Muse Air experience. Our new Business Class service between Houston and Los Angeles will mark the beginning of a new era in air travel. After flying us once between Texas and California, you, too, will find that high quality, comfortable airline service at an extremely affordable price is not a thing of the past.

Welcome aboard!

Yours very truly,

Michael L. Muse
President
