VANGUARD AIRLINES now offers three one-way price options in all markets. None of these prices require either a round-trip purchase or minimum stay (i.e., Saturday night).

14-DAY ADVANCE

The 14-day price will offer you our greatest savings. We invite you to compare our 14-day prices to other airlines 21-day levels. And remember, while seats may be limited, and may not be available on heavily traveled flights, you don't have to purchase round-trip or travel only on certain days.

7-DAY ADVANCE

Our 7-day price will offer you significant savings with only a week's notice. Compare this price to many other carriers' lowest heavily restricted offer.

WALK-UP

Our walk-up price may vary by time of day or day of week, but will still be a great money saving deal that will be very competitive with any other carrier. Even if you can't plan ahead, Vanguard aims to save you money and keep air travel affordable.

As always, if you can't use a seat booked on Vanguard on the day you planned to travel, you have up to 90 days from the original flight date to travel with us. If you don't rebook and fly within 90 days, it's like a ballgame ticket—you use it or lose it. There's a $25 service charge for changing your mind (same day changes are no charge). Prices are subject to change until reservation is made and reservations must be paid for by midnight of the day following the original booking. Prices do not include the Passenger Facility Charge of up to $6 which airports may add on.
