"No Shows" are those who make reservations . . . then change their plans, fail to show up at flight time, and don't bother to cancel their reservations. Result: empty seats . . . and other travelers, who wanted the space, forced to change their plans. Now that air travel is a habit with more and more people for regular as well as emergency trips, "No Shows" have become a real problem. They lack consideration for their fellow air travelers—cause last-minute congestion at departure time. Don't be a "No Show".

Will You Help Us Lick the
"NO SHOW"
PROBLEM?

Here are four easy-to-follow rules that will cure the "No Show" problem once and for all . . . and will help assure you space when you want it.

1. Make your reservations well in advance
2. Pick up your tickets early—at city ticket offices when possible
3. Confirm reservations on all return trips
4. Cancel your reservation early if you're not going

Thanks for your cooperation!
